

Tommy Goes to London

TOWER OF LONDON

A castle built in England in 1070 for kings to live in. It was built by William the Conqueror. King Richard I had a huge ditch, called a moat, dug around it that was filled with water from the River Thames. But the water got stinky and dirty, and was drained hundreds of years ago. Today, the moat is filled with grass.

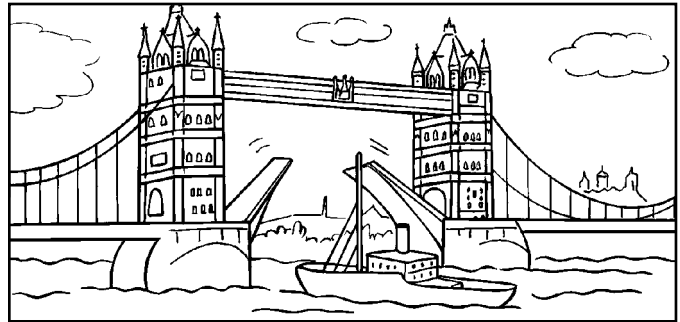

BUCKINGHAM PALACE

The home of the King and Queen of England.

TOWER BRIDGE

A huge drawbridge over the River Thames in London. It opens up to let big boats go through underneath.

RIVER THAMES

A big, wide river in England that flows through London. Its waters eventually flow into the North Sea.

BEEFEATER

Uniformed guard hired to protect the royal family and property, such as the Tower of London and the Jewel House.
